Williamstown serves up free lunch

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

Students at Williamstown Independent Schools will not have to reach into their pockets to pay for breakfast or lunch this upcoming school year.

As part of an expanded federal Community Eligibility Provision program, students will be provided with free meals, regardless of their families' income.

"No child should ever have to worry or wonder where their next meal is coming from," said Paula Hendy, food service director for Williamstown Independent Schools. "You don't know how many kids come in the cafeteria in the morning saying they're hungry and that they haven't eaten since they left yesterday. People don't realize, even though we are a small community and we don't think of us as impoverished, that we do have children who are hungry at night because they don't have any means to get food. We try to make sure they have as healthy and nutritious meal as they can get."

The Community Eligibility

Provision program, which started in 2010 as a pilot in Kentucky and other states, is available to schools that have at least 40 percent of students who are directly certified based on income and other guidelines to receive free meals.

"Out of our population of 1,026 students, 61 percent of our students are free or reduced based on either direct certification or benefits they might receive," Hendy said. "You only have to have 40 percent in your school to qualify and since we are over that percentage we more than qualify for the area."

Health dept. seeks public comments

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

Grant County residents could soon be getting a phone call from the Northern Kentucky Health Department asking for their input.

The health department will be sponsoring a random telephone survey beginning July 21 to gauge the community's perceptions of health-related issues.

The 15-minute survey, which the department will conduct over two weeks, can be answered by any adult age 18 and older.

Both cell phone and land-line phone numbers will be included in the survey sample.

"We are looking at attitudes about various health issues, including tobacco use, electronic cigarette use and second hand smoke," said

Emily Gresham Wherle, public information administrator for the Northern Kentucky Health Department. "The information from the survey will help the health department and other community partners shape future initiatives and programs. It will also give us a good measure on how people in Northern Kentucky feel about certain health issues."

Free food, school supplies to be given away

Grant County Parks and Recreation will host the Back to School Blowout at 7 p.m. on Saturday, August 9 at the Grant County Park in Crittenden.

Students must be present to collect school supplies and you must be a Grant County resident.

Free hot dogs and the Lego Movie will follow the school supply event.

If an organization is interested in participating in the event, register online at www.grantcountyparks.com or call 859-428-4500.

Clyde Oliver ends 50-year career

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

Clyde Oliver is hanging up his scissors and shears after 50 years of cutting hair.

That's a lot of swept-up hair.

Entering Clyde's Barber Shop on Paris Street in downtown Williamstown is like being transported into a different era.

Clyde mans the only barber's chair in the shop and the focus is less on getting in and out and more on chatting with good friends.

"He's a super fellow," said long-time customer Kenny Smith of Corinth. "It's like an old-timers' hang out where we all sit around and tell lies and spread rumors. It's more country and not like the uptown barber shops. It's like women at the beauty shop."

Clyde has been cutting hair for 49 years in Williamstown, including 36 years at Tony's Barber Shop and 13 at his own place.

A tale of two barbers

Shear delight!

Clyde Oliver of Clyde's Barber Shop in Williamstown cuts the hair of long-time customer, Kenny Smith of Corinth. Oliver recently decided to retire.

He also cut hair for a year in Walton, Covington, Florence and Independence.

"I've made a lot of friends," said

Clyde with a slight grin.

A Gallatin County resident, Clyde stumbled into the barber shop business after getting fed up with farming.

"We were milking cows and I hated that job," he said. "I said, 'There's got to be something better to do in the morning.' I got up at 4 a.m. every morning."

Ailstock embarks on new path

By Jamie Baker-Nantz
Editor

From saving souls to shearing locks, Willie Ailstock sees similarities in pastoring and barbering.

"I've always felt this profession (barbering) is a service profession," he said. "You are serving your community and you should do it with a smile because you are enjoying it because you want to do it not because you have to."

Ailstock, who is the minister at Oak Ridge Baptist Church in Williamstown, has opened his own barber shop next to Bruce's Grocery in Mason.

He plans to be open five days a week to start and may cut back to four after a few months.

Ailstock came to Grant County from Ohio in 1987 to start his career in the ministry as pastor at Dry Ridge Baptist Church where he served for 18 years.

County fair earns Most Progressive award

By Jamie Baker-Nantz
Editor

Members of the Grant County Fair Board are looking forward to making even more improvements to this year's fair.

Efforts last year earned them designation as the one of the Most Progressive Fairs in the state, an award sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

"We've never won this before," said Tena Webster, president of the Grant County Fair Board. "We've been runner up, but never won."

Webster said the fair board filled out the paperwork in December and has to wait several months before finding out if they won.

"We were surprised, but pleased and excited because we work hard to put on a good event," she said. "The award is the paycheck for the fair board because we don't get paid for the work we do."

Trenary competed for Miss Kentucky title

Thirty-two contestants represented local scholarship pageants from across the state for the title of Miss Kentucky 2014.

Dakota Trenary, 21, of Corinth, carries the title of Miss Heartland and represented the area. She is a student at Morehead State University and performed "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" on the piano. Her platform is "Learn, Earn and Return."

She is the daughter of Scott and Lori Trenary.

The pageant was held at the Singletary Center for the Arts on the campus of the University of Kentucky in Lexington. Preliminary competitions were held on July 10 and July 11. The final night of competition with the crowning of the new Miss Kentucky was held on July 12.

Ramsey Carpenter of Ohio County was chosen as Miss Kentucky 2014. She will represent Kentucky in the Miss America Pageant, which will be broadcast live on ABC on Sunday, September 14, from Boardwalk Hall in Atlantic City, New Jersey. The new Miss Kentucky will also speak in schools across the state on behalf of the "Kentucky Proud" program for the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, promoting the importance of supporting and purchasing products grown and manufactured in Kentucky.

All proceeds benefited the Miss Kentucky Scholarship Organization, a 501c4 non-profit scholarship program.

Captain John Lillard Chapter DAR presents awards

At the April 2014 meeting of the Captain John Lillard Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, awards were presented to two Grant Countians. One a senior, the other a high school senior.

Frances Rae Clinkscales Stanley was honored for her outstanding achievements in Fiber Arts.

For many years Stanley has been a devotee of knitting and crocheting. She has exhibited her afghans, clothing, table cloths and quilt appliqués at local and state contests. She is a 75-year member of the Williamstown Woman's Club where she chaired the Arts Department. In 1984, she was recognized by the Kentucky Federation of Women's Club as the best Club Arts Chairman. She also won a "Best of Show" trophy in the prestigious Covington Art Club show for the intricacy and delicacy of crocheted table cloths.

Since 1944 Stanley has worked in the family business, Stanley Funeral Homes. Beginning with her late husband and then her sons and now with her grandsons. For 72 years she served as the pianist at Williamstown Baptist Church and for the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Stanley was assisted by daughter-in-law, Brenda Stanley in displaying some of her creations to the DAR members. They estimate that Stanley has produced over 250 afghans.

Frances Stanley continues to crochet and give the products of her artistic endeavors to her family and delighted friends. The second award presented by the DAR went to Grant County High School senior, Cadet Lt. Hannah Barker, member of the Army Jr. ROTC Dept. She was honored as an Outstanding ROTC Cadet for 2014.

Barker was selected upon the recommendation of CSM (Ret) Charles Duffee, Senior Army instructor, Army JROTC Department, Grant County High School.

This award is given annually by the National Defense Committee of the Capt. John Lillard Chapter DAR to a cadet who has demonstrated academic excellence, dependability, good character, adherence to military discipline, leadership and patriotic understanding of the importance of the Reserve Officers Training Corp.

VIEWPOINT

OUR OPINION

Step up and file for office

Attending city council and other government meetings can be a lonely job.

The majority of the time the seats sit vacant as the elected officials go about doing what they feel is best for residents.

Occasionally, there are hot-button issues that attract a few upset citizens to attend a meeting and speak their mind.

But those times are few and far between.

Once again, the filing deadline is fast approaching for those interested in becoming candidates for city council/commission and mayor in Williamstown, Dry Ridge, Crittenden and Corinth.

Those who sit back and complain to themselves or on social media should take this as an opportunity to file for office.

If you feel that those previously elected are not doing a good job, do something about it.

Make not only your voice heard, but throw your name into the hat to show how you would make a difference in your city.

That’s not to say that the current mayors, council members and commission members are not right for the job.

But, when voters are left with little to no choice when they cast their ballot, the potential for new ideas dies.

When people don’t vote, it’s hard for them to complain when someone they disagree with lands in office.

Likewise, if you have a better plan and vision for the city you love and live in, how can you not try to make that dream a reality?

Getting involved in making your city a better place can take many forms.

There are many worthwhile volunteer organizations in Grant County that help in countless ways.

But, there is no better way to shape the way your city runs and what direction it is headed than being the one helping to steer the ship.

Even if you do not win, you at least tried to make your city better..

The filing deadline for non-partisan candidates for mayor and city council/commission seats in Williamstown, Dry Ridge, Crittenden and Corinth is at 4 p.m. Aug. 12.

For more information, call the Grant County Clerk’s Office at 824-3321.

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

Be paranoid about retirement savings

I did a lot of financial research prior to retiring as the Grant County News’ publisher last March. I could have been and still could be considered paranoid when it came to protecting my investments that paved the way to retirement.

My advice to you is to be paranoid about your retirement savings because there are a tremendous amount of ways and people who would like to have that money without doing any legitimate work for it.

Here are some words of caution:
Health Care/Medicare/Health Insurance Fraud

In these types of scams, perpetrators may pose as a Medicare representative to get older people to give them their personal information, or they will provide bogus services for elderly people at makeshift mobile clinics, then use the personal information they provide to bill Medicare and pocket the money.

Counterfeit Prescription Drugs

Counterfeit drug scams operate on the Internet, where seniors increasingly go to find better prices on specialized medications. The danger is that besides paying money for something that will not help a person’s medical condition, victims may purchase unsafe substances that can inflict even more harm. Ask a local pharmacist for help to avoid being scammed.

Funeral Scams

The scammers read obituaries and call or attend the funeral service of a complete stranger to take advantage of the grieving widow or widower. Claiming the deceased had an outstanding debt with them, scammers will try to extort money from relatives to settle the fake debts. If someone says the deceased owed him or her money, tell them they must take the matter up with the estate.

Telemarketing

With no face-to-face interaction, and no paper trail, these scams are incredibly hard to trace. Also, once a successful deal has been made, the buyer’s name is then shared with similar schemers looking for easy targets, sometimes defrauding the same person repeatedly.

Examples of telemarketing fraud include:

“The Pigeon Drop”

The con artist tells the individual that he/she has found a large sum of money and is willing to split it if the person will make a “good faith” payment by withdrawing funds from his/her bank account. Often, a second con artist is involved, posing as a lawyer, banker, or some other trustworthy stranger.

“The Fake Accident Ploy”

The con artist gets the victim to wire or send money on the pretext that the person’s child or another relative is in the hospital and needs the money.

Personally Speaking

“Charity Scams”

Money is solicited for fake charities. This often occurs after natural disasters. Donate directly to one of the many local charities in your community.

Internet Fraud

While using the Internet is a great skill at any age, the slower speed of adoption among some older people makes them easier targets for automated Internet scams on the web and email programs. Pop-up browser windows simulating virus-scanning software will fool victims into either downloading a fake anti-virus program (at a substantial cost) or an actual virus that will open up whatever information is on the user’s computer to scammers. Unfamiliarity with the less visible aspects of browsing the web (firewalls and built-in virus protection, for example) makes seniors especially susceptible to such traps. One example includes:

Email/Phishing Scams

A senior receives email messages that appear to be from a legitimate company or institution, asking them to “update” or “verify” their personal information. A senior receives emails that appear to be from the IRS about a tax refund.

Investment Schemes

Because many seniors find themselves planning for retirement and managing their savings once they finish working, a number of investment schemes have been targeted at seniors looking to safeguard their cash for their later years. From pyramid schemes like Bernie Madoff’s to fables of a Nigerian prince looking for a partner to claim inheritance money to complex financial products that many economists don’t even understand, investment schemes have long been a successful way to take advantage of older people.

Homeowner/Reverse Mortgage Scams

Scammers like to take advantage of the fact that many people above a certain age own their homes, a valuable asset that increases the potential dollar value of a certain scam. A particularly elaborate property tax scam in San Diego saw fraudsters sending personalized letters to different properties apparently on behalf of the County Assessor’s Office. The letter, made to look official but displaying only public information, would identify the property’s assessed value and offer the homeowner, for a fee of course, to arrange for a reassessment of the proper-ty’s value and therefore the tax burden associated with it.

Closely related, the reverse mortgage scam has mushroomed in recent years. With legitimate reverse mortgages increasing in frequency more scammers are taking advantage of this new popularity.

As opposed to official refinancing schemes unsecured reverse mortgages can lead property owners to lose their homes when the perpetrators offer money or a free house somewhere else in exchange for the title to the property.

Sweepstakes & Lottery Scams

Here, scammers inform their mark that they have won a lottery or sweepstakes of some kind and need to make some sort of payment to unlock the supposed prize. Often, seniors will be sent a check that they can deposit in their bank account, knowing that while it shows up in their account immediately, it will take a few days before the (fake) check is rejected. During that time, the criminals will quickly collect money for supposed fees or taxes on the prize, which they pocket while the victim has the “prize money” removed from his or her account as soon as the check bounces.

The Grandparent Scam

The Grandparent Scam is so simple and so devious because it uses one of older adults’ most reliable assets, their hearts. Scammers will place a call to an older person and when the mark picks up, they will say something along the lines of: “Hi Grandma, do you know who this is?” When the unsuspecting grandparent guesses the name of the grandchild the scammer most sounds like, the scammer has established a fake identity without having done a lick of background research. Once “in,” the fake grandchild will usually ask for money to solve some unexpected financial problem (overdue rent, payment for car repairs, etc.), to be paid via Western Union or MoneyGram, which don’t always require identification to collect. At the same time, the scam artist will begs the grandparent “please don’t tell my parents, they would kill me.”

Scams are considered low risk crimes because they often go unreported and the criminal can have the money and disappear quicker than the victim can realize they have lost their money. The variations of the scams listed above are endless. Do some more research by looking up the “Spanish Prisoner” scam.

Don’t be afraid that you will make someone, or anyone, angry if you say, “no” or question them about what they want you to do with YOUR money. The only reason they have to get angry is because they can’t get your money and make it THEIR money. Ask for advice from someone you trust before giving money to a stranger or unknown business. If a potential scammer is at your door and is too pushy or gets irritated, call the local police. Don’t let them in your house.

Don’t forget to raise the flag

Don’t forget to raise the flag, don’t forget to raise the flag.

Remember when you were first allowed to do a grown-up thing. Take a letter to the mailbox all by yourself and get the mail and bring it in.

Everyone enjoys a letter, not everyone gets e-mail or text on their cell phone and the U.S. Postal service is a bargain. Short on stamps, most grocery check-out lanes carry stamps and if you like, raise your mailbox flag and the mail carrier can fill your request for stamps.

Most days you get so called junk mail, if you want to request stamps from the letter carrier, raise your flag. That is a signal to them that they have something to pickup. Please do write a letter to someone today and to another someone tomorrow and don’t forget to raise the flag.

Dry Ridge should rollback payroll tax

May I take this time to congratulate the city of Dry Ridge on their new found wealth. I applaud the fact that they may be able to hire new personnel and give raises to current personnel.

May I suggest that now since they’re doing so well that they may rollback the payroll tax they recently raised so I can get my last raise back since I lost most of it because of the tax hike.

If that was to happen it would be more money in my pocket to pay bills with.

DOWN AND DIRTY

Small ears may mean poor pollination

Small stalks, small ears, poor kernel development...does this describe your corn crop this year? Or maybe the raccoons absconded with the crop! If this sounds like you there may be several factors at work. Drought at the wrong time can stunt your corn crop; cold damage can stunt corn (if you put your crop out early you could see a little stunting from a late spring cold snap); and poor drainage and poor soil fertility, especially nitrogen, can stunt the crop as well.

Corn needs what most other summer crops need: good soil and drainage, adequate nutrients and temperatures above 60 degrees for germination and growth. Corn is actually a heavy feeder so healthy soil with some side dressing is a good idea to maximize the quality of harvest. Add composted manure when preparing the planting block and then follow up with a balanced fertilizer or additional compost every two weeks or so thereafter.

Water needs are not excessive but irrigation (if it doesn't come naturally) when the stalks begin to flower will promote larger ear development. The rest relies on cross-pollination. Corn flowers and begins to shed its pollen several days before the silks actually emerge. The pollen shed continues for about a week, during which most of the action takes place in late morning. It is rare for the pollen of the same plant to actually fertilize itself; it usually floats to other plants, travels down the tube of the silk where it finally reaches the female flower.

Improving cross-pollination

Sweet corn for eating is one of those crops best grown en masse in the field. This is probably why Gallrein Farm corn is better than anything I can grow! Good cross-pollination, often facilitated by a breeze, needs to occur between different corn plants; each silk that comes from the top corresponds directly to a kernel inside. If the silk isn't pollinated then the corresponding kernel does not develop... pretty darn cool, really.

The problem with backyard garden corn is that people often just plant a few rows out which usually results in poor pollination because when the breeze hits it just blows the pollen over the single neighboring row and it pollinates nothing! In order to improve cross-pollination and ensure a full ear of corn, plant large blocks of corn instead of a few long rows.

The most common pest of corn is the corn earworm (and maybe a hungry bunch of raccoons!) The adult moth of the earworm lays her eggs on the silks of corn. Once the eggs hatch they begin feeding on the silks, working their way down into the husk where the real prize awaits, the developing kernels of corn. Commercial growers often use insecticides, but for the home gardener this is not necessary because there is generally only one earworm per ear (they eat each other if there is more than one). The corn is still edible, simply cut off the end that has been eaten by the corn earworm. One organic approach to deterring corn earworms is dropping a small amount of vegetable oil in the middle of the silks as they begin to form. I've not tried it but it is worth a shot of you have the problem.

Corn is ready to harvest when the silks dry and turn brown to black in color. Peel the husk back a little and pierce a kernel with your fingernail. If a milky juice squirts out you are ready to go.

FAITH & VALUES

RELIGIOUS VIEWS

Our freedom

Just a few weeks ago we were reminded that on July 4, 1776, the 13 colonies claimed their independence from England, an event which eventually led to the formation of the United States. Each year on July 4th, also known as Independence Day, Americans celebrate this historic event. The Declaration of Independence is at once the nation's most cherished symbol of liberty and Jefferson's most enduring monument. What Jefferson did was summarize this philosophy in "self-evident truths" and set forth a list of grievances against the King in order to justify before the world the breaking of ties between the colonies and the mother country.

God sets before us a course of conduct. We not only can choose we have to choose. Then, we have to live with the consequences of our choices. We have alternatives. Each alternative has consequences. God does not say to us, "You must choose this one." Rather, he says, "Choose this one and such and such will happen." But he leaves the choice with us. We are free to choose. The only thing he requires is that once we walk through the door of one of the alternatives, we must be prepared to live with the consequences.

God gives us choices. Then he gives us the absolute free choice of which path we will take. He doesn't present these choices with malice, but out of his sincere desire to make it possible for us to live as true people of God.

Many don't understand this freedom God gives us. The thing God understands and we don't is that we have no freedom unless we are free to choose. If you put a child in a room with a jar of candy and tell him not to touch the jar, the child has a choice.

If instead we lock that jar in a cabinet and tell the child not to touch it, the child has no choice. This is the way it is with God and us. If God removed from us all bad choices, we would have no freedom at all. We would not be individuals striving to find a better way. We would be nothing but robots. If we are not given a choice, we have no freedom to choose. God created us to be free. God gives us choices and the consequence of each one. He has given us the perfect freedom to choose. The rest is up to us.

The Bible says Jesus is the living God, the Holy One, the Savior, the only valid object of saving faith, the sovereign Lord, and the righteous Judge.

Who do you say Jesus is? That is the inescapable question. Your response to Him will determine not only your values and lifestyle but your eternal destiny and freedom from the bondage of sin as well. He alone can redeem you--free you from the power and penalty of sin. He alone can transform you, restore you to fellowship with God, and give your life eternal purpose. Have you repented and believe in Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior?

The Bible says in Romans 6:23, for the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Because He loves you and me and we have no way of paying for our own sins so, he paid for them Himself by dying on the cross. He chose a time in the history of mankind that judgment was quick, punishment was cruel but, that cruel death, that cruel punishment paid for an eternal home in Heaven with Him for those that ask forgiveness of sins and believe on Him; the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

You see, it doesn't end with His death on that cross. He arose from the grave. He resurrected in a glorified body, one that will never die, so that as the Bible says in Romans 10:9, that if you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you will be saved.

How will you respond?
(Brian Smallwood is the youth pastor for Dry Ridge Baptist Church. He can be reached at 859-824-5501)

Grant School District says goodbye to retirees

Name: Carol Anne Price
What was your job title: HR Director/insurance coordinator at district office.
Number of years working in the Grant County school district: 11 3/4 years

Educational Background: Associate degree from MTSU

Hobbies: Raising flowers, cooking and visiting my grandchildren in Nashville.

What is the one thing you'll miss the most after retirement: "Having to miss the people I worked with and hopefully helped others with their insurance issues."

What is your favorite book? Too many to count "To Kill A Mockingbird" comes to mind.

What is your favorite song: All except rap. "Go Rest High On That Mountain"

If you could travel anywhere in the world, where would you go and why? Hawaii, always wanted to go there. The weather is 70 degrees all year round.

Tell one thing about yourself that might surprise your friends and family if they knew: I always wanted to be a singer, love music.

Best advice you'd give to a parent: None - every person is not to be guided by other people's advice but by their own instincts and love their children.

Name: Carla Marston
What schools did you teach in: Community Christian Academy-first 5 years Mason-Corinth Elementary-25 years

What was your job title: Music Teacher

Number of years spent working in the Grant County school district: 25 years

Educational background: Simon Kenton High School 1977, Bachelor of Music Education NKU 1982 and Master's Degree 1992

Hobbies: travelling to historic places, playing the piano and organ, flower gardening, volunteering at the county fair.

What clubs/organizations do you belong to: Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, Owen County Homemakers, KY Music Educators Association, KOSA, National Right to Life

What is the funniest thing a student ever said to you: "You mean you had to go to college to be a music teacher?"

What is the one thing you'll miss the most after retirement: I will miss the hugs and smiling faces of my students.

What is your favorite book: The Bible

What is your favorite song and type of music: "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow," Contemporary Christian music

If you could travel anywhere in the world, where would you go and why? I would like to go to the Holy Land and walk where Jesus walked.

Tell one thing about yourself that might surprise your friends and family if they knew: I work better under pressure. I am a procrastinator!

Best advice you'd give to a parent/guardian: Teach your children right from wrong. Allow them to experience failure so they can be prepared for life. Realize that they need to learn to be independent because you won't be around forever to take care of them.

What was your job title: Food service at Crittenden-Mt. Zion Elementary.
Number of years working in the Grant County school district: 26 years

What is the funniest thing a student ever said to you: I'm frequently introduced to a parent by a child saying, "Mom, this is my 'cooker'!"

What is the one thing you'll miss the most after retirement: "Obviously the students. They are part of my life and hold a special place in my heart."
Best advice you'd give to a parent: Cherish your children. Be a great part of their life and an inspiration to them. Attend school functions and be there for them at school and at home, as well. Love them unconditionally.

N a m e :
Phyllis Case

What was your job title: Director of Special Instructional Services
N u m b e r of years spent working in the Grant County school district: 18

Educational background: Associate of Arts - Eastern Ky. University
Bachelor's Degree - Eastern Ky. University; Master's Degree - University of Kentucky; Specialist Degree - University of Kentucky; Director of Special Education Certification - Xavier University

Hobbies: Golf, gardening and reading

What is the one thing you'll miss the most after retirement: The children and the people I work with each day.

What is your favorite book: The Good Earth by Pearl S. Buck

What is your favorite song and type of music: My favorite song is The Old Rugged Cross and I listen to a lot of different music - country, Christian and oldies

If you could travel anywhere in the world, where would you go and why? I would go back to Europe. I love the history and the richness of the historical significance on the development of our Country.

Tell one thing about yourself that might surprise your friends and family if they knew: I am not sure I have fooled anyone but I am a introverted person. It is difficult for me to meet new people.

Best advice you'd give to a parent/guardian: Love your children by setting limits and expectations.

Name: Patricia Went Nicholson

What schools did you teach in: Mason Elementary and Dry Ridge Elementary

What was your job title: Teacher of students with Specific Learning Disabilities, Title 1 Reading, and 1st and 2nd Grade Teacher
Number of years spent working in the Grant County school district: 34 years

Educational background: BA degree from NKU, Master's degree from Georgetown College

Hobbies: Crocheting, Scrapbooking, Cooking, Reading

What clubs/organizations do you belong to: Member of St. William Catholic Church, actively involved at Williamstown Baptist Church as coordinator for Operation Christmas Child Shoebox Ministry

What is the funniest thing a student ever said to you: It's so hard to choose just one! Kids are so sweet and innocent. This one particular day I got a new student, a beautiful dark skinned girl, right before recess. I asked my line leader to take his place in line and proceeded to line my class up with the new girl second in line.

It was a beautiful spring day and I spent the time getting to know her as we made the long trek to the playground. As we arrived at the parking lot, the sweet child smiled up at me and said, "Did you know I'm part Indian?" My line leader looked back with a grin on his face and said, "Did you know I'm part cowboy?"

What is the one thing you'll miss the most after retirement: The kids and their hugs

What is your favorite book: My personal favorite is the Bible. My favorite children's books are written by Helen Lester. I love reading to children! Tacky the Penguin, Hurty Feelings, A Porcupine Named Fluffy are among my favorites to read aloud.

What is your favorite song and type of music: Worthy of Worship is my favorite song. I like all types of music but mainly listen to Christian music.

If you could travel anywhere in the world, where would you go and why? I would go to Germany to visit my great uncle and see with my own eyes the places that our family has come from.

Tell one thing about yourself that might surprise your friends and family if they knew: I never intended to have a teaching career. I wanted to be a "stay at home mom". Lloyd Franks, my high school math teacher, asked what we were going to do after high school in class one day. The next thing I knew, I was in the guidance office and headed for a visit to Northern Ky. State College to pursue a teaching degree.

Best advice you'd give to a parent/guardian: The two most precious gifts you can give your child are your time and a genuine love of books. Spend 10 to 15 minutes each evening reading and talking with your child about what you've read and don't wait until they are school age! Snuggle them up on your lap and make that the most pleasant experience of their day.

You will cherish those memories and the chances are that your children will do better in school.

GRANT COUNTY LITTLE LEAGUE DREAM TEAM - The Dream Team went undefeated for the Grant County Little League 2014. Photo submitted

Battle of the Bluegrass for Special Olympics comes to Owen County

On Saturday, July 26, Owen County will host the Battle in the Bluegrass, a Grant County Special Olympics Invitational softball tournament at the Owen County Park.

The event is one of many competitions, such as track and field, soccer, bowling, flag football, basketball and cheerleading, which is part of Special Olympics. Nationwide, year-round sports training and athletic programs are offered to more than one million children and adults with intellectual disabilities. It is founded on the belief that with proper instruction, adaptation and encouragement, they can learn, enjoy and benefit from participation in sporting activities.

Currently 19, of approximately 55 SOKY softball teams from across the state have registered for the competition. Grant County Local Coordinator Beverly Bass and Coach Billy Brown are working with the Owen County Parks and Recreation with the help of volunteers to plan the event. Brown said that the Battle in the Bluegrass has the potential to be larger than the state tournament, where generally 20 teams compete.

"We are very excited to have our athletes show off their abilities for the local communities," said Brown. The SOKY softball season runs June through September. Teams participate in their respective regional tournaments, organized by skill level, in order to qualify for the state tournament held in Bowling Green in September. Kentucky is divided into nine competition areas. Athletes from Owen and Grant Counties have combined to form the Grant County Fireballs. The Fireballs' first game is at 9:10 a.m. The event is open to the public.

To financially support the Battle in the Bluegrass or volunteer, contact Beverly Bass at 859-322-7366 or Billy Brown at 513-233-1827.

Those students who are not already directly certified for the free and reduced lunch program will be required to fill out a short household income form.

Hendy estimates parents will save about $900 per child if a student normally eats breakfast and lunch every school day.

Along with financial savings for families, Hendy said the program will eliminate any perceived stigma that comes from being in the free and reduced lunch program since every student will have the same status.

Charges will also be a thing of the past, although students can buy extra items with their own money or use funds in their food service account.

“We’ve had people comment that they can afford to pay for it so why would they want to do that,” Hendy said. “Well, take the money and use it toward something else. If your children are still hungry, take that extra money and buy something extra. Hopefully, if things go the way we plan, sometime after Labor Day or closer to Thanksgiving, we are hoping to do a supper program as well. It will also be federally funded and not cost a dime to any child as well.”

The Williamstown Independent School Board approved the district’s participation in the program during its May meeting.

Superintendent Sally Skinner said the board researched the program, talked to other districts already involved and took into consideration the needs of the community before coming to an agreement with the USDA.

“There will be some additional paperwork, but every student, regardless of their family’s income, will be eligible for a free lunch,” Skinner said. “Now money once spent on student school lunches can be redirected towards other family financial obligations/needs. I am confident the implementation of the CEP program will be a win - win for everyone.”

For more information about the Community Eligibility Provision program, visit the food service section of the Williamstown Independent Schools website at www.williamstown.kyschools.us in early August.

What about Grant County Schools?

Although the Community Eligibility Provision program was discussed, Grant County Schools ultimately decided against participation for the 2014-15 school year.

The percentage of students directly certified for free meals is not high enough at the district’s six schools to receive reimbursement for all meals served.

“This would require the Grant County Board of Education to be responsible for providing additional funds if the food service program could not be financially viable,” said Margaret Prewitt, director of food service for Grant County Schools. “Also, with the addition of the Community Eligibility Program, the Grant County Board of Education would need to employ someone outside the food service department to process Household Information Forms to ensure that Family Resource Centers could still receive proper assistance.”

Although the numbers are higher at Sherman and Mason-Corinth elementary schools, the district wanted to make sure every school had the opportunity to participate.

“We did not think it would be fair to qualify only two schools and not all of them,” Prewitt said. “This arrangement would also require Grant County Schools Food Service to have two separate programs at separate locations and would only create confusion among students, parents and staff.”

While breakfast prices at Grant County Schools will continue to cost $1.10, the lunch prices will increase by 10 cents at every grade level for 2014-15.

Lunch prices will be $1.80 for elementary school, $2 for middle school and $2.25 for high school.

The federal government mandates that the price charged for private paid lunches be equal to or greater than the rate of reimbursement provided by the government for free meals.

However, the increase can come in small increments over a period of years until they reach the desired rate, said Prewitt, adding that the increases adopted by Grant County Schools were the smallest allowable increment.

As for the district’s potential future participation in the Community Eligibility Provision program, Prewitt said the program needs to be entered into when the numbers are high enough that there is no risk of receiving a lesser reimbursement amount.

“Grant County Schools Food Service will continue to work with families of the community to ensure that all children who qualify for the free and reduced program will receive the benefits of the National School Breakfast and Lunch Program,” she said. “Grant County Schools will also continue to look at the Community Eligibility program each year to determine if and when such a program would be beneficial to our students and community.”

FAIR : wins state award

Awards for Most Progressive Fairs are based on four categories: livestock and horse entries, food, crop and youth entries and money spent on entries not approved for state aid.

“All of our entries were up last year and the weather was fantastic with no rain and mild temperatures. We just saw increases across the board,” said Webster.

The fair board is composed of volunteers who work year-round in planning the fair and other events that are held at the Northern Kentucky Fairgrounds on Baton Rouge Road in Williamstown.

Kentucky is divided into three zones with each zone having two divisions based on population. Division A is counties with populations under 20,000 and Division B is for counties with populations over 20,000. County fairs compete for The Most Progressive Fair Awards within their respected zones and divisions. An overall winner and runner up are selected from the six winning counties using the same comparisons.

Webster said the fair board tries to bring new events and activities each year.

“When you’ve had a county fair for 60 years you want to keep it going,” she said.

The fair has been held in several locations in the county, including Grant County Park in Crittenden before it moved to the new facility on Baton Rouge Road in 2008.

“We are in the top 10 fairs in the state and we take pride in that,” Webster said. “We have a nice facility but still have a long ways to go.”

Webster said the fair board’s priorities include writing grant applications for sewer at the site, which would allow them to construct permanent bathrooms and a kitchen.

New for the 2014 fair will be laser tag.

“Hopefully, that will be a big draw to come and play,” Webster said. “We’re also working on a cooking competition and the remote control pullers will be returning. They were with us three years ago and were really entertaining.”

Her biggest worry is weather.

“We always pray for good weather, with little to no rain,” she said.

The fair board is composed of 30 members, but more volunteers are needed.

“We need new fresh blood,” said Webster. “It’s not just about that week in July. Our group meets monthly to keep this tradition going. It’s the biggest form of entertainment for people in the county and we just have to keep it going.”

Anyone interested in becoming a volunteer with the Grant County Fair, call Webster at 859-445-4885.

OLIVER : ends 50-year career

Clyde went to a barber college in Covington to learn the ropes.

He would cut his two daughter’s hair as they grew up.

“They said I did great in barber college,” Clyde said. “I’ve probably gone down ever since.”

Life has thrown Clyde some hardships along the way.

Sometimes, he would cut hair all day and then go home and farm.

He had more than 100 head of cattle until he was forced to sell them after he got bone cancer four years ago.

“I’d work when I could,” Clyde said about fighting to beat the cancer. “Sometimes I’d take chemo treatments on a Monday and be back cutting hair on a Friday. Boy, I was sick. They say it is gone. Hopefully. That chemo is tough. I lost 50 pounds taking that treatment.”

Clyde said he has been cancer-free for about a year.

Aug. 16, 2012, marked another turning point in Clyde’s life.

He was in a head-on collision in Boone County when his vehicle was struck by a car going nearly 100 miles per hour.

A helicopter took him to the University of Cincinnati Medical Center, where Clyde was given a slim chance of survival.

“When they got me off the helicopter at UC they gave me two hours to live,” he said. “Broke my ribs. Bust my chest open. Broken leg. My neck was broke twice. (The driver) wasn’t even hurt. He was going 96 miles per hour. That’s a hell of a feeling seeing someone come at you that fast.”

Clyde was in a body cast for 118 days.

He did not cut hair for about a year after the accident.

Clyde believes now is the right time to close up shop.

His final day cutting hair full-time was set to be June 28, a decision he made that week.

“What am I supposed to do for a haircut?” Smith said after hearing the news.

Luckily for Smith, who has been getting his hair cut by Clyde for 25 years, he may not have seen his favorite barber for the last time.

“I just always enjoyed it,” Clyde said. “You tell a few fishing stories. I’ll miss the people. I’ll probably still work part-time on Fridays.”

AILSTOCK : begins new career service personnel and their families.

In 2007, he served in Iraq for seven months.

The hardest part was losing six soldiers from the unit in a two-year period.

After seven years of active duty, he decided it was time to come back to Grant County.

“I had enough time in to retire, so I decided it was time to find a full-time church to pastor,” Ailstock said.

While he didn’t find a full-time pastor’s position, he was called to Oak Ridge Baptist where he’s served for the last two years.

“Oak Ridge has been good to me,” he said.

Cutting hair was something he’d always thought he might be good at. He put in 1,800 hours at Bailey’s Barber College to be licensed in Kentucky and Ohio.

“I want to cut people’s hair the way they want it cut,” he said. “I’m happy to accommodate. If I turn them around in the chair I want it to be the way they want it.”

His shop will feature shaves and facials, trimming for children’s hair and basic haircuts for women.

“I live to be around people and this is providing a service, like being a pastor,” he said. “A good haircut can make people feel better and this is also a good way for me to work in my community so that I can stay in touch with the community.”

When he’s not working at one of his two jobs, Ailstock enjoys woodworking and playing golf.

He plans to show off some of his woodworking skills at a new home he is building on Ky. 22.

HEALTH : public input sought

All information collected will be confidential. Responses will be combined with hundreds of others and not reported individually, but the results of the survey as a whole will be shared with the community.

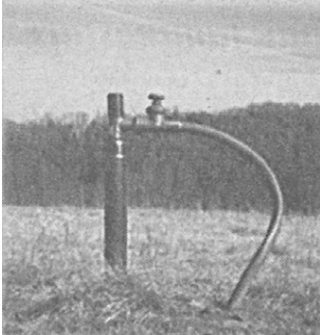

A planning group made up of community stakeholders will be reviewing the data and determining the best format for public release.

The health department anticipates the data will be ready for release in November or December.

“The more people who take the time to respond to this survey, the better our data will be,” said Lynne M. Saddler, district director of health. “Your opinions are important to us, so we strongly encourage you to participate if you receive a telephone call.”

Anyone with questions about the survey can contact the Health Department at 859-341-4264 or e-mail nkywebmaster@nkyhealth.org.

GAS SYSTEM CONSTRUCTION

We will be starting the work on our gas collection system July 7 thru August 31, 2014. This work will include drilling new gas wells and upgrading some of the header pipe improving the current gas collection system. During the construction of the upgrade we will do everything we can to minimize the odors, but sometimes it is unavoidable. We apologize if odors become more prevalent during construction. Thank You.

VS. NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Jeanette M. Schwartz, et al. DEFENDANTS

** ** ** **

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale entered in the Grant Circuit Court on June 25, 2014, I will sell at public auction on the front steps of the Grant County Courthouse, the property described herein located in Grant County, Kentucky, on WEDNESDAY, August 6, 2014, at the hour of 11:00 a.m., prevailing time, and more particularly described as follows:

Said real estate is situated in Grant County, Kentucky, and bounded as follows:
Lying and being in Grant County, Kentucky on the East side of the Lemon-Northcutt Road, 0.2 miles North of Larkin Lane and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a P. K. Nail in the center of the Lemon-Northcutt Road and a corner to Franklin Minch; thence with said line S. 43° 45' E -- 587.99 feet to an iron pin; thence with a new made line of the grantors, S 77° 50' W -- 362.22 feet to a P. K. Nail in the center of the Lemon-Northcutt Road; thence with the center of said road, N 11° 24' W -- 208.69 feet; thence N 6° 00' W -- 190.59 feet; thence N 0° 51' E -- 114.24 feet to the place of beginning containing 2.249 Acres, more or less, exclusive of all rights-of-ways and easements of record.

Being the same property conveyed to Bobby J. Jefferson, single and Jeanette M. Schwartz, single who acquired title, with rights of survivorship, by virtue of a deed from Bobby L. O'Neill and Linda B. O'Neill, his wife, dated October 9, 1987, recorded October 14, 1987, at Deed Book 165, Page 794, Grant County, Kentucky records.

Property Address: 4305 Lemon-Northcutt Road, Dry Ridge, KY 41035

There is not a mobile home, doublewide and/or manufactured home included in the sale. Announcements made on the day of sale take precedence over printed material.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale is the principal sum of $167,765.94, together with accrued interest thereon to July 1, 2010, and interest thereafter at the rate of 7.25% from July 1, 2010 (per diem interest in the amount of $33.32) until the entire amount has been paid in full; plus late fees, costs, attorney's fees, and other advances made pursuant to the terms of the Note and Mortgage as Plaintiff is hereby permitted to demonstrate by Affidavit and Motion for Supplemental Judgment at any time prior to distribution of the proceeds from the sale.

The real estate shall be sold on the terms of 10% cash at the time of the sale, except that said deposit shall be waived if the Plaintiff is the successful bidder at the sale, and the balance on a credit of thirty (30) days bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum for the date of sale. When the purchase price is paid in full, the deed will be delivered to the purchaser. It is further provided that the property sold includes insurable improvements and the successful bidder at said sale shall, at bidder's own expense, carry fire and extended insurance coverage on said improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is fully paid in the amount of the Court appraised value of said improvements or the amount of the unpaid balance of the purchase price, whichever is less, at minimum, with a loss payable clause to the Commissioner of the Grant Circuit Court and the Plaintiff herein. Failure of the purchasers to obtain such insurance shall not affect the validity of the sale or the purchaser's liability thereunder, but shall entitle, but not require, the Plaintiff to obtain said insurance and furnish the policy or premium thereon or the proper portion thereof shall be charged to the purchaser as purchaser's costs.

The aforesaid property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the following:

- All unpaid state, county and city real estate taxes for the year 2014
- Easements, restrictions, and stipulations of record;
- Assessments for public improvements levied against the property;
- Any facts which an inspection and or accurate survey of the property may disclose.

City of Dry Ridge Ordinance

ORDINANCE NO. 787-2014

AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING AND IMPLEMENTING A PROGRAM TO CHARGE MITIGATION RATES FOR THE DEPLOYMENT OF EMERGENCY AND NON-EMERGENCY SERVICES BY THE FIRE DEPARTMENT FOR SERVICES PROVIDED/RENDERED FOR THE DRY RIDGE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, the emergency and non-emergency services response activity to incidents continues to increase each year; Environmental Protection requirements involving equipment and training, and Homeland Security regulations involving equipment and training, creating additional demands on all operational aspects of the fire department services; and

WHEREAS, the City of Dry Ridge has investigated different methods to maintain a high level of quality of emergency and non-emergency service capability throughout times of constantly increasing service demands, where maintaining an effective response by the fire department decreases the costs of incidents to insurance carriers, businesses, and individuals through timely and effective management of emergency situations, saving lives and reducing property and environmental damage; and

WHEREAS, raising real property tax to meet the increase in service demands would not be fair when the responsible party should be held accountable for their actions; and

WHEREAS, the City Council of Dry Ridge desires to implement a fair and equitable procedure by which to collect said mitigation rates and shall establish a billing system in accordance with applicable laws, regulations and guidelines; Now, Therefore

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE DRY RIDGE:

ARTICLE 1: The City of Dry Ridge shall initiate mitigation rates for the delivery of emergency and non-emergency services by the fire department for personnel, supplies and equipment to the scene of emergency and non-emergency incidents as listed in "EXHIBIT A". The mitigation rates shall be based on actual costs of the services and that which is usual, customary and reasonable (UCR) as shown in "EXHIBIT A", which may include any services, personnel, supplies, and equipment and with baselines established by addendum to this document.

ARTICLE 2: A claim shall be filed to the responsible party through their insurance carrier. In some circumstances, the responsible party will be billed directly.

ARTICLE 3: The City Council may make rules or regulations and from time to time may amend, revoke, or add rules and regulations, not consistent with this Section, as they may deem necessary or expedient in respect to billing for these mitigation rates for the collection thereof.

ARTICLE 4: It is found and determined that all formal actions of this City Council concerning and relating to the adoption of this Ordinance were adopted in open meetings of this City Council, and that all deliberations of this City Council and any of its committees that resulted in such formal actions were in accordance with all legal requirements, and the Codified Ordinances of the City Council.

ARTICLE 5: Ordinance 664-2005 and 738-2008 are hereby repealed.

This ordinance shall become operable and in full force and effect when passed, ordained, ordered published, and published according to law.

First Reading: June 23, 2014

Second Reading: July 7, 2014

PASSED, APPROVED, ORDAINED, ADOPTED AND ORDERED PUBLISHED ON THIS THE 7th DAY OF July, 2014.

EXHIBIT A

MITIGATION RATES BASED ON PER HOUR

The mitigation rates below are average "billing levels", and are typical for the incident responses listed, however, when a claim is submitted, it will be itemized and based on the actual services provided.

MOTOR VEHICLE INCIDENTS

Level 1 - $435.00

Provide hazardous materials assessment and scene stabilization. This will be the most common "billing level". This occurs almost every time the fire department responds to an accident/incident.

Level 2 - $495.00

Includes Level 1 services as well as clean up and material used (sorbents) for hazardous fluid clean up and disposal. We will bill at this level if the fire department has to clean up any gasoline or other automotive fluids that are spilled as a result of the accident/incident.

Level 3 - CAR CARE - $605.00

Provide scene safety, fire suppression, breathing air, rescue tools, hand tools, hose, tip use, foam, structure protection, and clean up gasoline or other automotive fluids that are spilled as a result of the accident/incident.

Level 4 - $1,800.00

Includes Level 1 & 2 services as well as extrication (heavy rescue tools, ropes, airbags, cribbing etc.). We will bill at this level if the fire department has to free/remove anyone from the vehicle(s) using any equipment. We will not bill at this level if the patient is simply unconscious and fire department is able to open the door to access the patient. This level is to be billed only if equipment is deployed.

Level 5 - $2,200.00

Includes Levels 1, 2, & 4 services as well as Air Care (multi-engine company response, mutual aid, helicopter). We will bill at this level any time a helicopter is utilized to transport the patient(s).

ADDITIONAL TIME ON-SCENE

Engine billed at $400 per hour.

Truck billed at $500 per hour.

Miscellaneous equipment billed at $300.

HAZMAT

Level 1 - $700.00

Basic Response: Claim will include engine response, first responder assignment, perimeter establishment, evacuations, set-up and command.

ADDITIONAL TIME ON-SCENE (for all levels of service)

Engine billed at $400 per hour.

Truck billed at $500 per hour.

Miscellaneous equipment billed at $300

FALSE ALARM BILLING RATES

(a) The first false alarms within twelve (12) months in a calendar year is free of charge

(b) The second (2nd) false alarm in a twelve (12) month calendar year is billed at $100.00

(c) The third (3rd) false alarm in a twelve (12) month calendar year is billed at $200.00

(d) The fourth (4th) through sixth (6th) false alarms in a twelve month (12) calendar year are billed at $300.00 per event not exceed $500.00 per calendar day.

(e) False Alarms will be billed at the discretion of the Chief or designee, not by how the incident is coded into the Records Management Software.

FIRE INVESTIGATION

Fire Investigation Team - $275.00 per hour.

Includes:

•ZScene Safety

•ZInvestigation

•ZSource Identification

•ZK-9/Arson Dog Unit

•ZIdentification Equipment

•ZMobile Detection Unit

•ZFire Report

The claim begins when the Fire Investigator responds to the incident and is billed for logged time only.

FIRES

Assignment - $400.00 per hour; per engine/$500.00 per hour; per truck

Includes:

•ZScene Safety

•ZInvestigation

•ZFire/Hazard Control

This will be the most common "billing level". This occurs almost every time the fire department responds to an incident.

ILLEGAL FIRES

Assignment - $400 per hour; per engine/$500 per hour; per truck

When a fire is started by any person or persons that requires a fire department response during a time or season when fires are regulated or controlled by local or state rules, provisions or ordinances because of pollution or fire danger concerns, such person or persons will be liable for the fire department response at a cost not to exceed the actual expenses incurred by the fire department to respond and contain the fire. Similarly, if a fire is started where permits are required for such a fire and the permit was not obtained and the fire department is required to respond to contain the fire the responsible party will be liable for the response at a cost not to exceed the actual expenses incurred by the fire department. The actual expenses will include direct labor, equipment costs and any other costs that can be reasonably allocated to the cost of the response.

WATER INCIDENTS

Level 1

Basic Response: Claim will include engine response, first responder assignment, perimeter establishment, evacuations, first responder set-up and command, scene safety and investigation (including possible patient contact, hazard control). This will be the most common "billing level". This occurs almost every time the fire department responds to a water incident.

Billed at $400 plus $50 per hour; per rescue person.

Level 2

Intermediate Response: Includes Level 1 services as well as clean up and material used (sorbents), minor hazardous clean up and disposal. We will bill at this level if the fire department has to clean up small amounts of gasoline or other fluids that are spilled as a result of the incident.

Billed at $800 plus $50 per hour; per rescue person.

BACK COUNTRY OR SPECIAL RESCUE

Itemized Response: Each incident will be billed with the custom mitigation rates deemed usual, customary and reasonable (UCR). These incidents will be billed, itemized per apparatus per hour, per trained rescue person per hour, plus rescue products used.

Minimum billed $400 for the first response vehicle plus $50 per rescue person.

Additional rates of $400 per hour per response vehicle and $50 per hour per rescue person.

MISCELLANEOUS/ADDITIONAL TIME ON-SCENE

Engine billed at $400 per hour.

Truck billed at $500 per hour.

Miscellaneous equipment billed at $300.

MITIGATION RATE NOTES

The mitigation rates above are average "billing levels", and are typical for the incident responses listed, however, when a claim is submitted, it will be itemized and based on the actual services provided.

These average mitigation rates were determined by itemizing costs for a typical run (from the time a fire apparatus leaves the station until it returns to the station) and are based on the actual costs, using amortized schedules for apparatus (including useful life, equipment, repairs, and maintenance) and labor rates (an average department's "actual personnel expense" and not just a firefighter's basic wage). The actual personnel expense includes costs such as wages, retirement, benefits, workers comp, insurance, etc.

EQUIPMENT DAMAGE

(a) Bunker Coat and/or Pants (PPE): Cost based on New Equipment purchase.

(b) Fire Boots: Cost based on New Equipment purchase.

(c) Fire Gloves: Cost based on New Equipment purchase.

(d) Fire Hoods: Cost based on New Equipment purchase.

(e) Fire Helmet: Cost based on New Equipment purchase.

(f) Portable Radio Equipment: Cost based on New Equipment purchase.

INCIDENT REPORT: Copy of NFIRS Incident Report will be billed at $20.00

LATE FEES

If the invoice is not paid within 90 days, a Late Charge of 10% of the invoice, as well as 1.5% per month, as well as the actual cost of the collections, will be accessed to the responsible party.

Announcements made on the day of sale take precedence over printed material.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale is the principal sum of $91,136.15.

The real estate shall be sold on the terms of 10% cash at the time of the sale, except that said deposit shall be waived if the Plaintiff is the successful bidder at the sale, and the balance on a credit of thirty (30) days bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum for the date of sale. When the purchase price is paid in full, the deed will be delivered to the purchaser. It is further provided that the property sold includes insurable improvements and the successful bidder at said sale shall, at bidder's own expense, carry fire and extended insurance coverage on said improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is fully paid in the amount of the Court appraised value of said improvements or the amount of the unpaid balance of the purchase price, whichever is less, at minimum, with a loss payable clause to the Commissioner of the Grant Circuit Court and the Plaintiff herein. Failure of the purchasers to obtain such insurance shall not affect the validity of the sale or the purchaser's liability thereunder, but shall entitle, but not require, the Plaintiff to obtain said insurance and furnish the policy or premium thereon or the proper portion thereof shall be charged to the purchaser as purchaser's costs.

The aforesaid property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the following:

a. All unpaid state, county and city real estate taxes for the year 2014

b. Easements, restrictions, and stipulations of record;

c. Assessments for public improvements levied against the property;

d. Any facts which an inspection and/or accurate survey of the property may disclose.

For further information, see the Final Judgment and Order of Sale and pleadings in record in the Office of the Circuit Court of Grant County.

NOTICE TO GRANT COUNTY TAXPAYERS

Layne Wagoner, Grant County Clerk, pursuant to KRS 424.130, announces that the 2013 Delinquent Real Property Tax Bills (Certificates of Delinquency) will be published in the Grant County News on JULY 17, 2014. The list of Certificates of Delinquency is also available for public inspection during the hours of Monday through Friday from 8:30 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. and Saturday from 8:30 A.M. to 12:00 P.M. at the County Clerk's office located at 107 North Main Street, Williamstown, KY. This list may also be inspected on the Software Management LLC website. The Uniform Resource Locator (URL) of the website is KYDTAX.SMLLC.US. The tax sale will be held on AUGUST 18, 2014 beginning at 9:00 A.M. All interested participants must register with the County Clerk's office by the close of business on AUGUST 8, 2014. Please contact the County Clerk's office if you need additional information about the tax sale registration process, the required registration fee or the deposit amounts that will be needed. Taxpayers can continue to pay their delinquent tax bills to the County Clerk's office anytime prior to the tax sale. The following methods of payment will be accepted by the Clerk's office from third party purchasers: company checks (provided that the bank issues a statement of coverage of funds), cashier's checks, or cash. Full payment is required at time of purchase. Please Note: All payments must be received in the County Clerk's office prior to the tax sale date listed in the advertisement. Payments received after the tax sale has been conducted will be returned without exception. Some delinquencies-although they have been advertised-will be excluded from the tax sale in accordance with the provisions of KRS 134.504(10)(b). If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the County Clerk's office at 859-824-3321. PURCHASERS ARE STRONGLY ADVISED TO SEARCH THE PROPERTIES OF INTEREST. THE CLERK IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR BILLS THAT ARE IN FORECLOSURE, BANKRUPTCY OR TANGIBLE.
